In the context of network theory, a complex network is a graph (network) with non-trivial topological features—features that do not occur in simple networks such as lattices or random graphs but often occur in graphs modelling of real systems. The study of complex networks is a young and active area of scientific research (since 2000) inspired largely by the empirical study of real-world ...

Social network analysis (SNA) is the process of investigating social structures through the use of networks and graph theory. It characterizes networked structures in terms of nodes (individual actors, people, or things within the network) and the ties, edges, or links (relationships or interactions) that connect them. Examples of social structures commonly visualized through social network ...

1. Introduction. Complex Network Analysis (CNA) is a relatively young field of research. The first systematic studies appeared in the late 1990s , , , having the goal of studying the properties of large networks that behave as complex systems. The research owes a great deal of its foundations to the seminal work on Random Graphs of Erdős and Renyi , who studied asymptotic properties of ...
